Quality Control Reports

In order to help provide better service to all of our builders and customers, 4-H Plumbing has implemented new and improved quality control forms and reporting methods. The latest version of our Plumb Control software has been updated to compile a number of weekly reports (to be reviewed each Monday during the supervisors meeting) as follows:

- Cable Locates
- Expired Permits
- Incomplete Service Tickets
- Job Progress & Photo Archiving
- Supervisor Workload & Distribution

East Coast Trailer

Julian Grenald will be overseeing our new, northeast coast job trailer. We have set up this trailer to allow easy access to the New Smyrna / Palm Coast projects that we have taken on this year. 4-H Plumbing hopes to have this job trailer fully operational later this month.

Take your Child to Work Day 2008!

On April 24, 2008, Gabrielle Dymond (Dalia Cabani's daughter in Orlando) and Chelsie Edwards (Evelyn Edwards daughter in Orlando) came to work at 4-H Plumbing to help out their parents around the office. Both received a 4-H Plumbing Certificate of Appreciation.

Stephanie Poole's newest addition to the family, Bailey, also attended but was unable to help out around the office.

Service Truck Scheduling Updates

All 4-H service coordinators will now have the ability to monitor each service trucks position to allow for easier dispatch of our service personnel. Emergency calls should be much easier to route in the near future.

The updated ISR Fleet Track software should allow us to easily dispatch to known subdivisions by drawing each new subdivision on top of the existing maps. Even without a proper address, the service coordinator can determine which trucks are closest to each subdivision. This procedure should help with emergency response time, and should also cut back on unnecessary service overtime.
